(From Zane Hart) Thank you for following up with me...I am very content with the Lord's gentle leading of me and my family away from full time vocational ministry and it does make the most sense for me to step completely away from official ties to the PCA. I would like to follow the correct course of action and request to be, as the BOCO states, "divested of my office without censure" if the Presbytery is in agreement on this. Please let me know if there is any other action I need to make at this time.

(From Bill Broderick) I'm back and serving the church...The first week of February I will be taking 16 people on a mission trip to Dom Rep. No rest for the weary...

(From Ted Hamm) I continue to struggle with depression/anxiety, as well as physical injuries, and will likely be medically retiring from the Army this summer/fall. I do have strong local support as I work through these issues and see what God is teaching me, which is much. Deut 8: "...the Lord your God has led you these 40 years in the wilderness, that he might humble you, testing you to know what was in your heart..." I feel God has stripped much away, to show how much ministry has been done in my own strength, and for the approval of others. I hope and trust for a period of sabbatical and renewal, that God would renew me for another form of ministry, that I would minister from a more humble position of brokenness, and that I would be more effective for him than ever before - Ted
